VASCULAR DISEASE Are You At Risk?

PRESENTER: ALAN T. HIRSCH, MD

Vascular Medicine Specialist
Abbott Northwestern Hospital's Vascular Center
Minneapolis Heart Institute

Problems with the flow of blood in your arteries and veins can be very serious. Vascular problems can cause leg pain, skin ulcers that don't heal, heart attack, stroke, kidney failure, erectile dysfunction and more. Fortunately, trouble in your vascular system is often easily detectable and correctable.

This program is presented by a physician who specializes in vascular medicine. Dr. Hirsch will provide an overview of vascular disease and the most common types of vascular conditions, describe the risk factors for vascular disease, and explain what types of treatment options are available. There will also be time for questions and answers.
